

Spring break at Willamette Heritage Center takes a look back

Written by Statesman Journal
Apr. 04

statesmanjournal.com

Ben Goodey, 11, plays a game of Graces. Children passed a hoop to each other using sticks to remember to pass faith, hope and charity to each other. Toys and games from the mid-19th century are available for children to experience during Pioneer Playground at the Willamette Heritage Center.

Ben Goodey, 11, plays a game of Graces. Children passed a hoop to each other using sticks to remember to pass faith, hope and charity to each other. Toys and games from the mid-19th century are available for children to experience during Pioneer Playground at the Willamette Heritage Center.

Toys and games from the mid-19th century attracted Joel Gutman and his father, Ed, visiting from Santa Clarita, Calif., to the Willamette Heritage Center at the Mill on Tuesday.

Drop-in spring break activities continue at the Heritage Center through Thursday.

Today, children and their adult companions can experiment with water power (and get wet, too) at Power Up Wednesday.

SAL0327-Spring Break activities

Thursday offers a chance to learn about nature.

There's no need to RSVP, but children must be accompanied by an adult.

When: 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. today and Thursday

Where: Willamette Heritage Center at the Mill, 1313 Mill St. SE, Salem

Cost: $3 includes program and museum admission